

Everteam a complete Information Governance solution

The Challenge of Information Governance solution

The volume of information generated by organizations is increasing every year. This is as true in your organization as it is in the world today. Companies are producing, receiving, sending and storing more and more information, and most of them are doing the same thing, keeping information «just in case». However, this approach is no longer tenable. Faced with the risks and costs associated with the accumulation of information and the decreasing team productivity that results, it is becoming urgent to change practices with regard to the information assets.

In this context, the implementation of an information governance program becomes a necessity. It can mark the start of a virtuous process of aligning the organization with objectives such as: reducing risks and costs, improving employees' information use, or developing corporate digital responsibility practices.

Did you know that according to recent studies we spend 7 hours and 30 minutes a week looking for information ?

To meet these challenges, Everteam offers a range of solutions to help organizations, regardless of their size, to implement their information governance program.

The everteam solutions allow you to:

- connect to all your information silos
- analyze and enrich the metadata related to your content
- clean and classify your content
- manage the life cycles and conservation of your content
- archive your content and manage the disposal process

Adopt a proactive and concrete approach to information governance and initiate a shift towards responsible digitalization!

Everteam addresses the information governance market with two types of offers developed from the same everteam software suite: everteam IG Suite for large accounts and Mid-Size Enterprises, everteam for you dedicated to SMEs.

everteam IG suite

a comprehensive suite for cross-functional Information Governance

Distinct products.

Integrated, they make up Everteam's Information Governance suite:

everteam.discover:

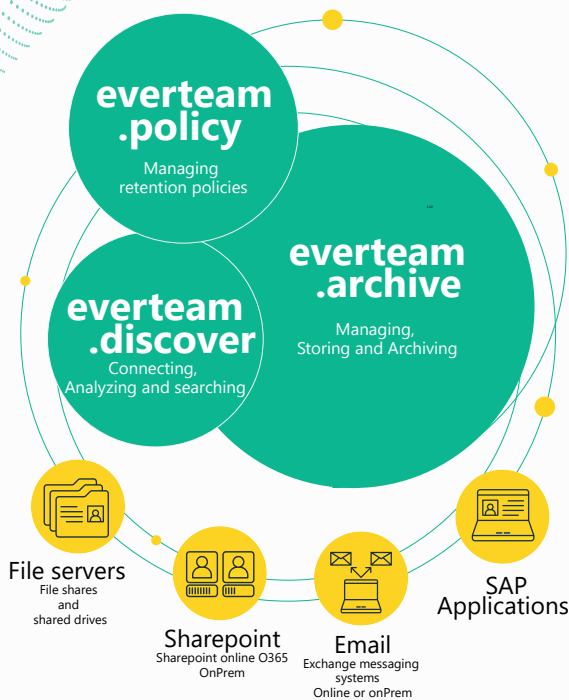

Allows you to analyze, remediate, govern and access your information from a single solution, no matter where it is located. This solution identifies redundant, obsolete or useless data, as well as sensitive and personal information. Metadata is enhanced and each information asset is indexed to allow the system to perform defined actions on each set of information assets.

everteam.policy:

An easy to use, centralized solution for building, managing and publishing retention frameworks (and/or regulatory requirements) across the enterprise. With everteam.policy, organizations can effectively manage all of their information retention policies in one place. The ideal replacement for an Excel spreadsheet to manage your retention frameworks professionally.

everteam.archive:

Complete solution for managing electronic, paper or hybrid archives. As a true governance tool for the company's information assets, the solution meets your needs for retention and security of binding documents, as well as for retention of large volumes of data or documents. everteam.archive is the key to meeting regulatory obligations, application decommissioning needs, or to decongestion of production applications.

The combined use of these products provides your organization with a complete information governance solution from creation to disposal. With its integrated connectors, data analysis and artificial intelligence capabilities, the everteam suite combines powerful capabilities with an intuitive user interface.
